What are you searching?

Vendors / suppliers
These are often large interdisciplinary groupings of databases. Some examples of grouped databases are:

- OVID
- EBSCO
- ProQuest

Subject-specific databases include content specific to a particular field in various formats such as: peer reviewed articles, newspaper articles, book reviews, theses, dissertations, reports, trade journal articles, and many more.