How to Find Books

Basic catalogue searching involves looking up one aspect of the book, such as author, title or subject. In this example, I wanted biographies of Farley Mowat, so I changed the drop down to subject. For books written by Farley Mowat, change the drop down to author and for a particular title, choose title.

Browse through your results. If a particular book interests you look for:
- Green box that says “In”
- The library where the book is located (such as UofT at Mississauga, Robarts, etc.)
- “Stacks” means that the book is on the shelf and you can go look at it or check it out
- Use the “call number” to find where the book is located in the “stacks”
